

Praying Psalm 27

Lord,

Thank you that you are my light and my salvation. Whom shall I fear? You are the strength of my life—of whom shall I be afraid? When the wicked advance against me, and when my enemies rise up against me--they will stumble and fall. Though an army besiege me, my heart will not fear. Though war break out against me, I will still be confident in you. One thing I ask of you Lord, and this is what I seek: that I may dwell in your house all the days of my life, and to gaze upon your indescribable beauty. Thank you that in the day of trouble, you will keep me safe in your dwelling. I praise you because you will hide me in the shelter of your sacred tent, and set me high upon a rock. I remain confident of this: I will see your goodness in the land of the living. Help me to wait for you, and to be strong and take heart.

In your name I pray,

Amen!
